The Bracken County High School FFA Chapter in Brooksville will celebrate National FFA Week, Feb. 15-22. This year's theme is "Ignite" and it embraces more than 80 years of FFA traditions while looking forward to the organization's future. More than half a million members will participate in National FFA Week activities at local, state and national levels. These members have a passion for agriculture.

Designated as National FFA Week in 1947, the week of George Washington's birthday is FFA Week, and runs from Saturday to Saturday. FFA Week gives FFA members an opportunity to educate the public about agriculture. During the week, chapters conduct a variety of activities to help others in their school and community learn about FFA and agricultural education.

Today's FFA members are the innovators and leaders of tomorrow. Through agricultural and hands-on learning, they are preparing for more than 300 career opportunities in the food, fiber and natural resources industry. National FFA Week is sponsored by Tractor Supply Company as a special project of the National FFA Foundation.

Snow still causing delays for schools

Area schools seem to be losing the battle with 'old man winter' this year. After Monday's temperatures rising into the high 30's, parents and students woke Tuesday morning, February 18th, to a one hour delay. As leftover snow began to melt throughout the day on Monday, high winds began to cause icing problems as the sun went down and temperatures dipped to below 32 degrees. School superintendents in local area school decided it would be best to delay school an hour than risk students and buses being on the roads before dawn. These students above are shown as they waited for the bus on Lincoln Avenue in Brooksville next to Subway Tuesday.

According to minutes of the February 10th Bracken County Board of Education Meeting, the make-up days listed in the 2013-2014 school year calendar will be used to make up the 14 days missed so far this winter. With no current plan to utilize March 20-21, reserved for State Tournament play, or March 31 - April 4, Spring Break, as make-up days, the last day of school for students is tentatively set for June 3rd. If needed, April 18 and the last day of school will be changed from an early release day to a full day of school. Dates of course are subject to change with more inclement weather closings and are scheduled to be decided at the next Board meeting on March 10th.

Judicial Branch implements new expungement certification process

Beginning Jan. 1, 2014, state law requires every petition for expungement in Kentucky to include a certificate of eligibility for expungement. Under KRS 431.079, individuals who wish to have their criminal records expunged must complete the expungement certification process to determine if they are eligible for expungement. The certification provides judges and prosecutors with the most current and complete information available on a individual's record.

KRS 431.079 is the enactment of Senate Bill 78, which was passed during the regular session of the 2013 General Assembly.

The Kentucky State Police are overseeing this process in conjunction with the Administrative Office of the Courts. Under the new law, both agencies must run criminal record reports on the person petitioning for the expungement. The KSP will then certify the eligibility of the expungement request.

Individuals can request certification through the AOC by registering online, by U.S. mail or in-person at the AOC Records Unit drive-thru window at 1001 Vandalay Drive in Frankfort. The certification costs $40 and the process takes up to 60 days. Those who obtain an expungement certification may then file a petition for expungement with the Office of Circuit Court Clerk in the county where the original charge was filed. The petition must be filed before the certification expires in 30 days.

Under the new process, judges will receive an expungement certification packet along with each petition for expungement. The certification ensures that judges can take into account an individual's most up-to-date and comprehensive record information when determining whether to grant an expungement.

Individuals can visit the Kentucky Court of Justice website at <http://courts.ky.gov/expungement> to learn more about the expungement certification process. The site provides a list of frequently asked questions and describes the steps to submit a request online, in-person or by U.S. mail. The benefits for those applying electronically include email notifications throughout the process, the ability to check on the status of the certification online and the ability to download the certification packet as soon as it becomes available.

On December 10, 2013, Bracken County High School hosted a very successful event, “Shoot for a Cure”. The night consisted of silent auction, cake auction, and a program. The Bracken County Care Support Group had a table set up where they took up donations and raffled off items.

Money raised will help people in Bracken County with cancer. The guest speaker, Tony “Big Red” Rogers, gave a very touching speech about his experience with brain cancer. Also, the survivors that attended the game walked their survivor lap, while Augusta and Bracken County fans cheered them on. It was a great night of friends and family coming together to support those who survived cancer and those who are still fighting. The Bracken County High School FCCLA and the Bracken County Cancer Care Club appreciate everyone who participated in this year's “Shoot For A Cure”.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

RESISTANCE

Bacterial infections, cancer cells, and pests all have something in common, besides the fact that they are all seen as hostile to human life and our interests, and that is that all of them have the tendency to develop resistance, to antibiotics, chemotherapy drugs, and to pesticides, respectively. This is a result of the fact that they all evolve rapidly, mutating and thus changing so rapidly that the original weapon used against them no longer works for that purpose. Mutation, and thus evolution, seems built into the very fabric of nature as a protective mechanism. It may seem odd to say that cancer is somehow built into the fabric of life, but that seems to be the upshot of oncogenes, which are abundant in nature. What allows life to adapt and change rapidly, thus protecting our species from toxins and infectious agents is also what makes us prone to cancer. Life is resilient, and not easily vanquished, just like cancer, the common cold, and the cockroach. But don't be too quick to lament that fact, for what makes it hard to annihilate cancer is also what makes it hard to annihilate us. — Christopher Simon

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

We were glad to be back in the church this past Sunday. We were gone for two weeks on vacation in St. Pete, Florida. Roger Cheesbro was supposed to fill in for me but on Feb. 9 the roads were so bad that he could not make it from West Union, OH where he lives. We had no contingency plan so there was no church. If this ever happens again, we do now have a plan.

We did not have adult Bible Study this Sunday because we had a meeting of the Session of the church. This was also communion Sunday so we did not have children's church.

We had a meeting of the Ministerial Assoc. and have set the dates for the Lenten services: Mar. 9 St. Augustine; Mar. 12 Christian Church; Mar. 19 Presbyterian Church; Mar. 26 Riverside Church (Church of the Nazarene); Apr. 2 United Methodist Church; Apr. 9 St. Augustine; Apr. 16 Presbyterian Church. There will be an ad in the Bracken County News in the near future and you can cut out the schedule.

Mary Murray was the worship leader, Susie Hargett led the singing, Kay Grooms did the power point. We had 42 in attendance. Susie Hargett also sang during serving of communion which was served by Jewel Mefford and Judy Mefford and the elements were prepared by Jean Appelman.

Keep in mind that we have our weekly soup supper on Monday night and we still have coats to give always. We will quit giving out coats in few weeks so if you need one, come see what we have. The coats are free.

My sermon this week was based on the sermon on the Mount and we will continue this study for a few weeks.

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES by Caroline Jefferson

As you may have noticed, we have had a lot of snow lately, but weather permitting, we WILL have our monthly Fourth Sunday Breakfast at St. James this Sunday, February 23 following the 8 AM Mass! This has been a winter of cancellations and delays, but we are inching ever closer to spring! While there is little we can do about the weather, we do have more control over our attitudes! We can pray for the safety of travelers, our road departments' workers, ambulance, fire, police and rescue personnel. Instead of wasting our time complaining, we need to turn that around to spend our time praying, thus making good use of these snow days!

St. James is preparing for the 100th Anniversary Celebration of the Church Building on July 25, 26 and 27. As part of the celebration, we would like to include photos in a booklet of the interior of the church. If you have any personal photos that you could copy to share, we would love to have them. These pictures could be of weddings, First Communion, Baptisms, Christmas, etc. Please mark the July dates on your calendar so that you can come celebrate with us!

Follow Safe Sleep Recommendations for Infants Winter Months Pose Additional Health Threat

The Kentucky Department for Public Health (DPH) is reminding parents to follow recommended safe sleep practices for infants, particularly during the colder winter months that present different challenges for keeping babies warm and free from danger.

“Infant mortality is a serious public health concern, and we live in a state where far too many children don't live to celebrate their first birthdays,” said Ruth Ann Shepherd, M.D., director of the Division of Maternal and Child Health for DPH. “In fact, Kentucky's infant mortality rate remains higher than the national average. This is due in part to sleep-related accidents that could be prevented with safety practices.”

Shepherd said the best way to prevent sleep-related deaths is to eliminate environmental factors that put infants at risk for injury or death. Specifically, she emphasized the importance of never smoking around a baby, since secondhand smoke can contribute to sudden, unexplained infant death.

The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends these safe sleep practices to prevent sleep-related deaths and keep infants safe and comfortable:

- Put baby to sleep alone in a crib, bassinet or play yard. The baby's sleep area may be in the parent's room, but not in the parent's bed. An adult bed is never a safe place for an infant to sleep.

- Consult a health care provider for guidance on when to move the baby to his or her own room.

- Always place infants to sleep on their backs to reduce the risk of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS).

- Keep the baby's sleeping area, whether it is a crib, bassinet or play yard, free and clear of soft objects, such as stuffed animals, toys, loose bedding, bumper pads and pillows.

- Breast-feeding your baby reduces the risks of SIDS, but the baby should be put to sleep in their own crib after feedings, in a bed separate from the mother's.

How to dress infants for sleep can be a great challenge as the outside temperatures drop and parents and caregivers worry about keeping infants warm enough. DPH recommends the following guidelines for winter sleep:

- Baby can be dressed in one-piece pajamas or wearable blanket. Wearable blankets can be layered over undershirts or onesie. Do not let your baby get too hot by overdressing them or wrapping them up in heavy blankets.

- If possible, keep the baby's room at a temperature comfortable for an adult.

- If a blanket must be used to keep a baby warm for sleeping, it should cover the baby's feet and lower body but not come higher than the baby's chest. It should be tucked in around the mattress at the sides and bottom of the crib so that it cannot slide up to cover the baby's face.

Sherry Rock, DPH Child Fatality Program administrator, also warned of the dangers of another household item commonly used this time of year when temperatures begin to decrease.

“Remember to keep all portable heaters away from the baby's sleep area. The baby can overheat if too close to a heater, get burned or tangled up in the cords of small electric heaters,” said Rock. “These are just small steps for parents and caregivers, but they can make all the difference in keeping infants safe.”

There are many safety resources available to the general public, parents, families, professionals and caregivers of infants. Parents, professionals and others can visit the Safe to Sleep public education campaign website at <http://www.nichd.nih.gov/sts/Pages/default.aspx> for resources and more information.

TRIPLE RIDGE

Due to snow & ice conditions at the home of Millie Bush, hostess, the Triple Ridge group met at the Augusta Presbyterian Church on Tues., Feb. 11. Pres. Richards called the meeting to order and led the pledge. Invocation was given by Martha Smith. The group then enjoyed a lovely meal prepared & served by the hostess. Following the meal two representatives from Bracken Nursing & Rehab spoke to the group on benefits, etc. They stressed on how to be a volunteer and what qualifications are required. We are blessed to have such a fine facility in our community.

Roberta Shepherd gave the inspiration on "Forgiveness". Thought for the day was "Nice to think that tomorrow is a new day with no mistakes in it yet". Roll call was answered to "What do you plan to do tomorrow?" With this winter weather no one had planned anything exciting.

Louise Moneyhon read the minutes of previous meeting. Cards were signed to send to Sue Lucas who was having surgery the next day and a sympathy card to Roberta Stephenson on the death of her husband, Tom. Agreed to send fruit to Sue and find out when she felt up to visitors and different ones to prepare some meals for her. Motion was made to send $50 donation to the scholarship fund in memory of Tom. Committee reports were given. Roberta Shepherd gave info. on "Glass Etching". Information and supplies needed, etc. was to have at the next meeting and plan to do in warmer weather.

Amy Fry made motion to change meeting date from

on February 20th

Hey, Abby Collins!
Where have you been?

Oh, Disney World, to celebrate becoming
"10"!!

Love,
Grandma & Uncle Teron

Mon. to second Tues. each month. It was agreed on. Since the Mar. meeting was scheduled to be at Sue's, it was agreed to meet at The Parkway on Tues., Mar. 11 at 12 noon.

Names were drawn for Valentine's Day so cards were passed out to each to read who they were from. It was discussed to do something for residents at the Nursing & Rehab. Valentines were done and choc. hearts to be put on their trays. Committees are working on things to do each month for the residents.

Margarette Carl presented a game of questions and answers. (we missed you Sue). Then sides were chosen and each given chocolate hershey kisses, take one, unwrap, eat, and pass one onto next person in line. First line done wins. Problem was you had to unwrap wearing gloves (large gloves). This slowed the process. Meeting adjourned.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

Howdy Folks! A special “howdy” goes out to our recyclers in the Milford and Gertrude areas! It has been a while since your areas have gotten a trailer, but if we get the warmth that is predicted for this week, that may change! During winters such as this one, many adjustments have to be made and because the places where we park these two trailers do not get cleaned of snow, we can’t drop them off. We dug out three trailers last week, and it was not an easy task! Basically, the situation comes down to two problems. The first is that our truck is not equipped with four wheel drive and secondly, the areas where three of the trailers are parked are right off the highway. This is convenient in most weather conditions, but snow plows leave mounds of snow that are insurmountable. Of course, the flip side is that the weather has not been suitable for folks to leave the safe confines of home to recycle, but we are expecting a bumper crop of bags and boxes shortly! Two months ago, we were looking forward to Christmas and two months from now we will be celebrating the feast of the Resurrection and Easter Dinner! By focusing on the positive, we will be amazed at the difference these next two months will make!

As always, this is being written on Monday and many of you have this President’s Day off. When we were in school, many, many years ago, the birthday of George Washington was celebrated on the date of his birthday of February 22 as it had been since 1885 when it was made a Federal Holiday. In 1971, this Federal Holiday of Washington’s Birthday was moved to the third Monday of February and many folks celebrate it as President’s

Day in honor of all former presidents of the United States. George Washington was a man of morals and it was this commitment to living a righteous life and performing his duties with honesty and integrity that led this country to be founded on God’s laws. On this day, it is only fitting that we stop to offer our prayers of appreciation for the many great presidents that have led this nation in times of war and peace. And we must add our prayers that the current administration be given the wisdom to guide this country with the honesty and integrity of the Father of our Country, George Washington.

Once the weather clears and the ground becomes visible again, we will be hosting our first road clean of the season. If any non-profit groups are interested in participating in this event, please give our office a call to leave your name and call back number. Paperwork consumes a considerable amount of time after all the groups have signed up but with pre-planning, we can have this step completed so that the Litter Patrol Workers can get to work quickly to rid the roads of the winter litter once the spring air arrives! Aluminum cans are becoming visible on top of the snow and we urge everyone to save these cans rather than tossing them out the window. This is a most valuable resource and it is not in the best interest of the environment to toss cans nor should they be thrown in the trash at home, but rather be saved for resale. Keep thinking spring and Easter dinner as you carefully make your way to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God’s earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen’ you – Bin & Bug.

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2014 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

A GREAT BIG THANK YOU!!!

We want to take the opportunity to thank the numerous businesses, family, friends and local communities for the outpouring of support to make the recent "KEMOFEST" BENEFIT an absolutely amazing event. Some donated auction items, some donated raffle items, some donated food and others helped with supplies.

Some came to the event and spent their hard earned money to help Kemo. Some could not attend and, instead, offered cash donations and other items to help us help Kemo. Some traveled across country to be here. Regardless of whom you are or what your contribution was, YOU made this event successful beyond anything we could imagine.

We are forever grateful to each and every one of you for making this possible. In particular, a special thank you to those who helped manage this event and make it possible from day one: Paul & Ginger Jones • Tim & Lynn Mitchell • Janice Hiles • Sandra Reynolds • Carrie Beth Otten • Dennis & Jo Angela Sharp • Misti Conley, Steve Tally and Jeff Hord at Night Moves • Sue Conley • Tommy Engnes • Staci Graves Jett.

To The Bands: Upfront Band • Fallen Rock • Harvest • JoJo Gunn • Inside Out • The Sundowner Band; We cannot even put into words the appreciation and respect we have for all of you and what you did. You traveled from far and near, brought your instruments and put on a show like nothing we had ever seen and you did all this at your own expense and on your own time as a contribution to Kemo.

Danny Wheeler and Robbie Graves: You showed up on Friday night with your equipment for everyone to use. You came back early Saturday morning to set it up. You ran the sound all day for the other bands, and then took us all home as the Headliner Band at the end of the evening. A simple Thank You will not describe the gratitude we have. What you two did towards the success of this benefit is indescribable.

On behalf of Kemo: We are forever grateful for all of you and this community. It has been a very humbling experience for all of us. Together, as you already have proven, we will continue to "Kick It With Kemo"!

As James D. Miles once wrote: "YOU CAN EASILY JUDGE THE CHARACTER OF A PERSON BY HOW THEY TREAT THOSE WHO CAN DO NOTHING FOR THEM."

You have proven these words are so true!!

Bracken County High School FFA

Celebrates National FFA Week: February 15 - 22, 2014

Did you know? Each year, FFA chapters around the country celebrate National FFA Week. The week-long tradition began in 1947 when the National FFA Board of Directors designated the week of George Washington's birthday as National FFA Week in recognition of his legacy as an agriculturist and farmer. The first National FFA Week was held in 1948. Today, FFA Week always runs Saturday to Saturday and encompasses Feb. 22, Washington's birthday.

National FFA Week did not start out as a week-long event. At first it was National FFA Day. The 1933 National FFA Convention proceedings records the beginning of FFA Day in this way: "Stewart of Montana requested the floor at this time to present a matter of general interest. He suggested the idea of having a special Future Farmer Day some time during 1934, preferably on one of the regular national FFA broadcasting days. It was pointed out that the various state associations could perhaps plan special state broadcasts also on that day and that chapters might plan their father and son banquets on the date specified. The idea seemed to meet with general delegate approval and after some discussion it was moved by Stewart that the Board of Trustees arrange for such a day; motion passed."

Educate and advocate! National FFA Week is an opportunity for FFA members, alumni and sponsors to advocate for agricultural education and FFA. It's a time to share with local, state and national audiences what FFA is and the impact it has on members every day.

Frankfort Focus

A Legislative Perspective on the Kentucky
General Assembly
State Rep. Mike Denham

The General Assembly has adopted a variety of traffic-safety laws over the years, ranging from lengthening the time it takes teenagers to get an unrestricted driver's license to cracking down on drunk and drugged driving.

Making sure people are secure in their vehicle has long been a safety concern as well, especially when it comes to children. Kentucky is not alone in this area, of course, with all 50 states requiring child-safety seats for infants and toddlers and all but South Dakota and Florida requiring booster seats for older children still too small for traditional seatbelts.

A report early this month by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention underscores how much of a positive impact the increased use of these seats has had across the country. Between 2002 and 2011, the number of highway fatalities among children 12 and younger dropped by 43 percent.

On Thursday last week, the House voted for legislation designed to build on these gains. If House Bill 199 becomes law, the minimum height for booster seats would remain at 40 inches, but the upper limit would rise from 50 to 57 inches. The age requirement, meanwhile, would go from seven to eight in most cases.

That legislation is one of the House's and Governor Beshear's top priorities this session. During his State of the Commonwealth address last month, he noted that this change would meet the recommendations of federal highway safety officials and pediatricians alike.

Another major initiative the House supports this year also cleared the chamber last week. House Bill 2 calls for expanding a pilot program Governor Beshear began in 2012 to help college students in Eastern Kentucky complete their four-year degree close to home with the help of grants funded by the coal-severance tax.

So far, this pilot program has helped about 90 students graduate, and several hundred others who are participating are on track to follow them.

In addition to making the program permanent, this legislation would expand it to all 34 of Kentucky's coal-producing counties. To qualify, students would have to have at least 60 credit hours and be taking upper-level courses at an approved postsecondary school or satellite campus in a coal-producing area. Grants would vary depending on other financial aid and tuition costs, and there is a provision to help those whose degree program is not offered in a coal county.

Another piece of legislation making it through the House last week would have the General Assembly's administrative arm, known as the Legislative Research Commission, study whether counties should have the option to move toward centralized voting centers rather than precincts, and whether the voting period should be extended.

If approved, this study could help us better understand whether these moves would be more helpful or hurtful.

Outside of the legislative process, but still good news for the state, Governor Beshear announced on Thursday that Kentucky saw a sharp increase in exports last year. Sales went up 14 percent, which was the second-highest rate among the states and seven times higher than the national average.

Overall, Kentucky shipped more than $25 billion worth of goods and services to nearly 200 countries in 2013. Saudi Arabia was highlighted as a major new destination for our motor vehicles, with that nation buying $610 million worth in 2013, up from $38 million in 2012.

While we still have a way to go to get our economy where we would like it to be, the good news about our export growth shows that we are making progress.

This week marks the halfway point of the legislative session, meaning we only have about 30 working days remaining. It promises to be a busy time as the pace of bills through the House and Senate continues to quicken and we finalize the state's two-year budget.

There is still plenty of time to let me know your thoughts or concerns about any legislation. You can always write to me at Room 329E, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601; or you can email me at Mitchel.Denham@lrc.ky.gov.

To leave a message for me or for any legislator by phone, please call 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305.

I hope to hear from you soon.

HMH awarded Best Places to Work in KY for 4th consecutive year

Harrison Memorial Hospital (HMH) was recently named as one of the Best Places to Work in Kentucky 2014. The awards program was created in 2005 and is a project of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, the Kentucky Society for Human Resource Management (KYSHRM) and Best Companies Group.

"We are delighted and proud to receive the prestigious honor for Harrison Memorial Hospital. HMH is the third largest employer in Harrison County, providing careers to more than 300 highly skilled, highly dedicated professionals in both the clinical and non-clinical fields," says Doug Hampton, Chairman of the Harrison Memorial Hospital Board of Directors. "One of the goals during my tenure as Board Chairman is to hire and retain the best possible staff. This award is a validation that the goal is being met consistently each year."

This statewide survey and awards program was designed to identify, recognize and honor the best places of employment in Kentucky, benefiting the state's economy, its workforce and businesses. The Best Places to Work in Kentucky 2014 list is made up of 73 companies. Harrison Memorial Hospital has been named one of the Best Places to Work in Kentucky.

To be considered for participation, companies had to fulfill the following eligibility requirements:

Have at least 15 employees working in Kentucky; Be a for-profit or not-for-profit business or government entity; Be a publicly or privately held business; Have a facility in the state of Kentucky; and Must be in business a minimum of one year.

Companies from across the state entered the two-part process to determine the Best Places to Work in Kentucky. The first part consisted of evaluating each nominated company's workplace policies, practices and demographics through a questionnaire. The second part consisted of an employee survey to measure the employee experience. The combined scores determined the top companies and the final ranking. Best Companies Group managed the overall registration and survey process in Kentucky and also analyzed the data and used its expertise to determine the final rankings.

This year is the first in which the small/medium category has been divided, creating three categories - small companies of 15-149 employees, medium companies of 150-499 employees and large companies consisting of more than 500 employees.

This is the fourth consecutive year that HMH has been awarded this honor and is listed in the newly-formed medium company category. In 2013, HMH placed twelfth in the large company rankings.

"I am so elated that HMH has for the fourth consecutive year achieved our goal of setting a high standard of employment commitment. We are so proud of the people who are the heart of HMH," says Sheila Currans, HMH Chief Executive Officer. "I am convinced that when the employees of HMH feel valued, the patients benefit. We are all better equipped to serve our community when employees truly know they are the core of our success."

Harrison Memorial Hospital will be recognized and honored at the Best Places to Work in Kentucky Tenth Annual Awards Dinner on Tuesday, April 24, 2014, at the Lexington Convention Center. The final rankings will be announced at the event. A magazine recognizing the winners and their final rankings will be released for statewide distribution at that time.

Harrison Memorial Hospital, located in Cynthia, Kentucky, is a community-owned, not-for-profit, 61-bed hospital, established in 1906. It offers a full range of services and an exceptional staff. HMH has 320 outstanding employees, in addition to a 17-member active physician staff and more than 100 physicians on consulting staff. Harrison Memorial is considered by its peers as a progressive entity in rural health.

Reserve your copy now of "Images of Basketball in Bracken County, Kentucky"

This latest book of historical images from Bracken County will be available for sale next week, just in time for March Madness. The book can be purchased at the Bracken County Historical Office on Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday mornings - also available at the Property Valuation Office (PVA) daily at the county courthouse.

The soft-bound book has over 350 pages of images of boys and girls' basketball players, as well as some cheerleader pictures, from Augusta, Brooksville, Bracken County high school teams and several pictures from elementary squads of Germantown, Milford, and Western Hills. The index contains approximately 2000 names of these young persons who played the sport most loved in Kentucky.

Among the images, representing the years 1911 - 2014, are several rare photographs of teams from the 1910s and 1920s. Surprisingly, one original picture included reveals the 1926 Augusta High School football team - some players are already identified. While researching this picture, it was discovered that Mt. Olivet also had a football team that year; their team picture is displayed in the new Robertson County High School.

There are also pictures of the Kentucky State Girls Basketball tournament team from Germantown, as well as all the Kentucky State Boys Basketball Tournament teams from Brooksville and Augusta.

Only a limited number will be available for sale; call 606-735-3337 to reserve a copy.

Jason Steffen Announces Campaign
For 24th Senate District Seat
Campbell County native serves as elementary school principal.

Jason Steffen, a Campbell county native and elementary school principal, is announcing his campaign for the Kentucky 24th Senate District seat that covers Bracken, Campbell, and Pendleton counties.

Steffen, 37, a Democrat who grew up in Fort Thomas and lives in Southgate, is the principal of Mary A. Goetz Elementary in Ludlow. This is his first campaign for elected office.

Steffen said he is running because the people of the district have been underserved.

“Over the past several years, the interests of the majority of the 24th Senate District have gone unheard in Frankfort,” Steffen said. “Through representation that did not reflect the constituents of the district, to the election of political candidates outside the core values of the district, it is time for someone who stands up and represents the interests of Bracken, Campbell, and Pendleton counties.

“As a lifelong resident of the district, who grew up in Campbell County and shares the values and sentiments of the 24th District, I proudly announce my candidacy for State Senator of Kentucky’s 24th District,” Steffen said.

One of six children of Daniel and Carol Steffen, Steffen attended Fort Thomas Independent School District and graduated from Highlands High School. “My parents still live in the house where I was raised,” he said.

Steffen attended undergraduate classes at Northern Kentucky University, earning degrees in education and history. He later attended graduate school at Xavier University, receiving a Masters Degree in Education Administration and a Rank 1 in Instructional Leadership. He has 12 years of experience in education, having served as a social studies teacher and elementary school principal.

Steffen coaches youth sports and is Commissioner of the Northern Kentucky Middle School Athletic Association. He also owns a small business, Gear Up Sportswear and Designs in Latonia.

“My values and life experiences are the same as those in the 24th District and I understand the hard working people of Bracken, Campbell, and Pendleton counties,” Steffen said. “I am looking forward to introducing myself to the residents of these counties in the upcoming months and to represent them in Frankfort.”

Conservation District Assistance
for Dead Livestock Removal

The Bracken County Conservation District, with help through a grant from the Kentucky Division of Conservation, is providing assistance to landowners for removal of dead livestock from Bracken County land. Proper disposal of dead farm animals is important to human health as well as your herd’s health. Leaving carcasses in the field will encourage coyotes to be a problem on your land.

We have a new licensed hauler for Bracken County, HARMON’S DEAD ANIMAL PICK-UP SERVICE, phone number (859) 567-2111. To have livestock removed follow these instructions:

call as soon as possible after death of animal have animal on a hard surface free of any enclosures (will not go into pastures or lots)

give good directions to your farmindicate type of animal to be picked up  provide phone number where you can be reached.

Harmon Brothers will pick up Monday-Friday 8 a.m.-4 p.m. They have an answering machine, so be sure to leave all information listed above.

Fees for pickup in Bracken County are $100.00 for horses and $75.00 for all other livestock. The Bracken County Conservation District will pay $50.00 toward each animal until the grant funds are exhausted. These cost share dollars will be paid directly to Harmon’s for each landowner using this service. The landowner’s part of pickup will need to be paid to Harmon Brothers directly. They will pick up cows, goats, hogs, horses, and sheep. Again, the Bracken County Conservation District will only cost share on animals within Bracken County.

Please post this service and phone number in a handy location so you can find it when you need it:

Panthers in the Republic Bank Classic; St. Pat & Harrison Co. games

By: Matt McCane

First of all I need to apologize to my readers. With the new job I started just before the season it is not as easy to attend every game and write about each game like before. I'm doing my best to catch up as best I can. I hope you enjoy.

Starting on Dec. 27th the Augusta Panthers participated in the Republic Bank Classic held at Lexington Catholic High School. This tournament is regarded by many to be the most prestigious holiday event in the state. The Panthers first opponent would be the Lafayette Generals. The 1st quarter was a tight one as Augusta battled the highly ranked Generals trailing 17-14 going into the 2nd quarter but the Panthers would get no closer as Lafayette outscored Augusta 35-8 to lead 52-22 at the break and went on to win, 86-46. Augusta dropped to 8-3 with the loss.

The next day Augusta faced the Hazard Bulldogs. Once again the Panthers played a competitive 1st quarter as Hazard led, 19-13. Once again, Augusta's opponent would start pulling away in the 2nd quarter and not look back. The Bulldogs dominated the paint scoring 60 points at close range. The final score was 95-72. Augusta lost their 4th straight game to fall to 8-4. Brent Bach led all scorers with 36 points. Camryn Snapp had 10.

Augusta continued on in the tournament facing the Clinton County Bulldogs. This game would feature a close 1st quarter as the two squads were knotted at 15 apiece. In the 2nd quarter the Panthers outscored the Bulldogs by 1 to lead 34-33. The close affair continued on through the 3rd as Augusta

Bach presented with All-Time Leading Scorer and McDonald's All American nominee plaques

Brent Bach was presented a plaque honoring him for becoming the All-Time Career Leading scorer at Augusta during the Augusta-Bracken County game on Tuesday, February 11th. As of that game, he had 2379 points and counting. Shown presenting Brent his plaque are Rebecca Arnold (Athletic Director) and Jason Hinson (Head Boys Coach).

Photos submitted

Also during the game, Vicky Jones (Maysville McDonald's General Manager) and Valerie Hord (Maysville McDonald's Manager) presented Brent, on behalf of McDonald's Corporation, two plaques recognizing him for being a McDonald's All-American Nominee.

led 54-50 going into the 4th quarter as the Panthers pulled away getting help from hitting 15 free throws to win, 75-64. The win snapped a four game losing streak and improved Augusta to 9-4.

On the final day of the tournament, thanks to Sunday's win, Augusta would face the Blue Devils of Henry Clay. The Blue Devils used a furious full court press to jump out on the Panthers 20-8 in the 1st quarter. In the 2nd quarter the Panthers put a few more points on the board but the taller and quicker Blue Devils were hard to stop. Henry Clay led at the half, 43-21. Augusta would make it interesting a couple times in the second half but each rally was stopped as the Blue Devils won comfortably, 82-58. Augusta fell to 9-5.

Scoring vs. Lafayette: Bach 15, Snapp 8, Shrader 7, Barrett 6, Maddox 5, Archibald 3, and Tucker 2.

Scoring vs. Hazard: Bach 36, Snapp 10, Maddox 9, Shrader 6, Gray 4, Archibald 3, and Tucker 2, and Jett 2.

Scoring vs. Clinton County: Bach 33, Snapp 18, Maddox 12, Freeman 8, Whiteman 2, and Tucker 2.

Scoring vs. Henry Clay: Bach 26, Maddox 15, Snapp 6, Tucker 6, Freeman 3, and Tucker 2.

Augusta's first game of the new year would be January 3rd at St. Patrick. With the help of a couple dominating quarters the Panthers would run away with this one. They led 19-2 after 1 quarter. St. Patrick would outscore Augusta 19-16 in the 2nd quarter but a 28-9 3rd quarter would put this one away and Augusta would win their 10th game, 73-48.

Scoring: Bach 26, Tucker 14, Maddox 9, Snapp 8, Whiteman 7, Freeman 3, Gray 3, Barrett 2, and Archibald 1.

Augusta returned to the friendly confines of the Panthers' Den on January 9th for the first time in the new year to face the Harrison County Thorobreds. Augusta had just faced the Breds in the Murph Classic last month falling 75-68 so a close game was anticipated. Unfortunately for Augusta, Harrison County had other plans. The visitors jumped on the Panthers early leading 22-12 after 1 quarter. Augusta showed signs of life in the 2nd quarter but still trailed, 42-27 at the break. Harrison County would make it a laugher in the second half outscoring the Panthers, 43-15 en route to an 85-42 victory. The loss dropped Augusta to 10-6.

Scoring: Bach 16, Maddox 15, Snapp 6, Whiteman 2, Clark 2, and Freeman 1.

Sinkhole erupts in National Corvette Museums Skydome

The National Corvette Museum received a call on Wednesday, February 12, 2014 at 5:44 a.m. from their security company alerting them of their motion detectors going off in their Skydome area of the Museum. Upon arrival it was discovered that a sinkhole had collapsed within the Museum. No one was in or around the Museum at the time. The Bowling Green Fire Department arrived on the scene and secured the area.

It is with heavy hearts they reported that eight Corvettes were affected by this incident. Those cars include:

1993 ZR-1 Spyder and a 2009 ZR1 "Blue Devil" on loan from General Motors.

The other six vehicles were owned by the National Corvette Museum including:

1962 Black Corvette, 1984 PPG Pace Car, 1992 White 1 Millionth Corvette, 1993 Ruby Red 40th Anniversary Corvette, 2001 Mallett Hammer Z06 Corvette, and 2009 White 1.5 Millionth Corvette.

None of the cars affected were on loan from individuals. They have contacted a structural engineer who arrived Wednesday to assess the existing damage and stability of the surrounding areas. While the Skydome area is closed, the remainder of the Museum is still open.

This year they celebrate their 20th Anniversary and look forward to re-opening the Skydome exhibit area very soon.

The National Corvette Museum is the 'Gateway to All Things Corvette' and a member-driven, 501(c)(3) non-profit foundation. Weekly news on the latest Corvette developments, racing updates, event features and raffles are available by subscribing to "NCM eNews" at: corvettemuseum.org/ncmenews. MCTC Hosting Super Sunday in Maysville, Paris and Mt. Sterling Representatives from Maysville Community and Technical College (MCTC) were in attendance when Governor Steve Beshear proclaimed February 23 as the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS) Super Sunday Day in Kentucky during a press event on Thursday, February 6, 2014 at the Capitol. Super Sunday is an annual outreach initiative specifically for African-American and Latino students. On February 23, MCTC and each of the KCTCS colleges will partner with African-American and Latino churches in their communities to host information fairs for prospective college students and their families.

On Super Sunday, more than 5,000 prospective college students and their families are expected to attend the statewide college fairs sponsored by KCTCS and its 16 colleges. MCTC will host events in Maysville at Scott United Methodist Church in partnership with Mt. Pisqua Baptist Church, in Paris at Zion Baptist Church and in Mt. Sterling at Evergreen Baptist Church. "This is our first year to host an event in Mt. Sterling and we are really excited to partner with to Evergreen Baptist Church," said Russ Ward, MCTC Rowan Campus Director. "I think the community will really enjoy this event."

Services at each church will be followed by lunch and a college fair to assist and inform those interested in attending college about financial aid, the admissions process, programs and classes offered at MCTC, how to transfer credits to a four year college and more.

To learn more about Super Sunday in Kentucky, visit www.super-sunday.org or contact Millicent Harding, MCTC Director of Cultural Diversity, at 606-759-7141 ext. 66196.

Sports in Kentucky by Bob Watkins

For right reasons, kid chose Purdue; Florida (& Calipari) sinks Kentucky

First, picture this: Small town kid demonstrates he is a gifted athlete early. Well grounded in faith, family and scholarship, he rises as a leader and excels in sports. Loves baseball best.

To the kid, team ahead of self rates far even as he rises to first team all-state recognition. Division I college recruiters find him, want him, come calling. More and more big dog colleges, including his state's flagship university, are courting.

The kid discusses scholarship options with family and coaches. Some in his community want him to sign with State U. not far from home. His priorities are unshaken. Education ahead of sports. Goal? A degree in engineering.

Kid chooses Purdue University at West Lafayette.

Elijah Sindelar, senior-to-be quarterback at Caldwell County High School, right?

Wrong!
The right answer is John Wooden.

The parallels, Sindelar at Princeton and Wooden growing up in Martinsville, Indiana (1924-28) are striking (so far).

At Martinsville, Wooden came from a faith-based home where he was a passionate player, but academics came first. A promising underclassman, Wooden grew into an all-state basketball player whose first love was baseball. Wanted to pitch.

Recruiters came calling from Wisconsin, Notre Dame Butler and flagship U., Indiana University was 20 miles from home. But Wooden chose Purdue for its engineering school. A dean's list student, he became an All-American basketball player. He eventually changed his major and became a high school English teacher, first at Dayton High School in Kentucky.

The rest is history. Wooden: A Coach's life, a new book by Seth Davis, is riveting:

Observations.

2. Turning point in the Florida-Kentucky game. John Calipari's technical foul. Asked, "the (Florida) points scored off that technical foul, it seemed to swing the game. Do you think it might have done that?"

Kentucky's coach replied, "It could have. It could have."

3. What was his technical for? "You have to ask (the official). ... I don't know what he heard me say with my back to him, so you have to ask him."

4. Real reason, Calipari has violated the coach's box and walked on court during play more often this season than Dick Vitale has flapped his lips. His technical was no surprise.

5. Close look at Kentucky's 2013-14 schedule in Rupp Arena tells us the crowd watching the Florida-UK game saw one of the two premier coaches in basketball today. Billy Donovan. The other is Jim Boheim at Syracuse.

6. Last two seasons, Calipari has proven he can recruit high school stars. He has also proven, minus Anthony Davis, he can't make a college team, nor even NBA ready one-and-doners, in seven months.

7. Western Kentucky Hilltoppers ... from a 14-point first half at home against South Alabama last Saturday, Ray Harper's team hasn't been the same since the bottom fell out of the Corvette Museum.

8. Darel Carrier's No. 35 at Western will be retired to the rafters at Diddle Arena this Saturday. Too long coming for a fellow who scored 1,318 points in only 69 games (1962-64), 19.0 points per game and sixth on Hilltopper score list? In fact, the timing is ideal for family and friends to witness celebration of one of our state's best ever scorers. Before Carrier' was a Hilltopper, he put 3,148 points on the board for Bristow High School. He ranks in the Top 20 all-time in Kentucky.

9. Bleacher Report offered its 'College Basketball Predictions that look Foolish,' last week. First up: Kentucky will go 40-0. Teevee analyst Jay Bilas denies Calipari said it. Bilas skipped over the "... at Kentucky we ARE basketball," part.

10. Bleacher Report: New hand check rule will kill college basketball. In fact, the rule may create a new one to stop pushing off by player dribbling the ball.

11. Another Bleacher Report prediction: Florida will struggle because of its roster situation.

12. John Wooden college basketball player of the year list should include no freshmen and, with emphasis on play and academic achievement, the candidate-to-beat should be Doug McDermott, senior at Creighton.

13. College player whose name sports writers had better learn to spell and pronounce: Egidijus Mockevicius 6-10 sophomore center at Evansville is going to be special.

14. Fun to Watch Dept.: Kentucky's women's 75-71 win over Tennessee in Thompson-Boling Arena last Sunday was first rate entertainment. First win in Knoxville since 1985. Junior Jennifer O'Neill was named the SEC Player of the Week.

15. Basketball coaches enjoying their jobs and are extraordinary at it: Jim Boheim (Syracuse), Billy Donovan (Florida), Jay Wright (Villanova) and Greg McDermott (Creighton).

16. Coaches whose body language says they're not: Tom Crean (Indiana), Cuonzo Martin (Tennessee) and Calipari.

17. College basketball entertainment supreme in 2014: See Creighton and Wichita State.

18. SEC player of the Year: Scottie Wilbekin, Florida.

19. Team leading the nation in scowls, bewilderment and litany of excuses ... see Kentucky.

20. Mt. Rushmore of basketball? Magic Johnson, Larry

Cummins continues love of sports by working with special needs athletes

Joshua Cummins knew at the age of 14 that he wanted to work with special needs children. Since graduating from BCHS in May of 2012, he has been busy attending classes at UK and working in Lexington with special needs clients. He currently is coaching a special olympics basketball team and is the director of operations for Lexington beep baseball, which is baseball for the visually impaired. On February 1, 2014, Joshua's special olympics basketball team, The Lexington Wildcats, played their first tournament in Louisville. They lost in the final game by 5 points, but Coach Josh was very proud of his team and praised them for their effort.

Attending the games were Joshua's mom and sister, Amy and Bailey Cummins, and grandmother, Bonnie Smith. It was a wonderful day filled with a lot of different emotions. Joshua's mom, Amy, encourages everyone to support the special olympics and to attend a sporting event if the chance arises. It's something wonderful that you will never forget.

Bird, Michael Jordan and Bill Russell, said Kobe Bryant last week. Of more than 17,000 internet voters, 52 per cent agreed.

21. If basketball-rich Kentucky had its own Mt. Rushmore it would include Adolph Rupp, Ed Diddle and you fill in the others. Note: Anthony Davis doesn't qualify because he doesn't meet residency requirement.

22. Best ESPN analysts today for college basketball are Doris Burke, Dan Dakich, Lynn Elmore and Jay Bilas.

23. From the Red-Faced Dept. - In last week's column I mentioned Oklahoma State's basketball star as Keith Smart. In fact, the Cowboys player is Marcus Smart.

24. Consider, five rules for Happiness: Free the heart from hatred, free the mind from worry, live simply, give more, and expect less.

And so it goes.
